PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

JOB PRINTING

EXECUTED, with neatness and despatch, at the Office of the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. April 26

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 11, 1833.

☞We invite the attention of our readers to the communication below. The subject is one of importance at this time—it would be truly an unfortunate matter to find, when this great work is completed, that it proves comparatively useless, for the want of boats.

☞Canal.—In a brief note, from the Collector of Tolls, to the editor, he says—"Our Canal is in fine navigable condition, large quantities of Merchandise are beginning to arrive from Philadelphia, so that we contemplate more business this fall, on this line of Canal, than has ever been done before."

Our Rivers.—The rain of Saturday last, though it has done much good, by giving our canal a more abundant supply of water, and by enabling keel boats to take much heavier loads than they had done for some time previous; but has not raised the river sufficiently to admit the passage of Steam Boats. We were, however, this morning told that there was a very heavy rain at Meadville, on last Monday night; from this information, and from the remarkable change in the temperature of the atmosphere, we infer that there must have been considerable rain to the north, and expect in a few days, an additional rise of water.

For the Gazette.

THE CANAL.

Much of the transportations of goods from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, has been diverted from the canal—partly, from a want of confidence in the canal itself, but more especially on account of the inability of those engaged in the business of transportation to furnish boats to receive the goods offered.—In consequence of this inability, a refusal although judicious, on the part of the freighters, to receive more goods than they found themselves able to deliver within the time prescribed, hundreds of tons were sent to the "far west," by the routs of the New York and Ohio canals, and by Baltimore and Wheeling.—Although the completion of the Portage Rail Road across the Alleghenny mountains, would tend to obviate much of the difficulty that has hitherto prevailed in the transmission of goods from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, yet unless the number of boats be increased twenty fold the present amount, the benefits of the whole system of transportation must fall infinitely short of the capabilities of the canal and railroad. With those who have had an opportunity of viewing this magnificent improvement minutely, no doubt can be entertained as to its entire adaptation in every particular to the safe and speedy transportation of goods between the points mentioned.—Of its ultimate success none need fear—yet it is mortifying even to lose our present advantages through the supineness and want of enterprise of our citizens.—Mr. D. Leech, the enterprising pioneer of canal transportation in Western Pennsylvania, has over and over again declared, that the "Line," of which he is principal owner, is altogether inadequate to one fourth of the business that might be done this season on the Pennsylvania Canal. Where are those who have filled our rivers with steam boats even to repletion, and, to say the least of it, whose business is rendered comparatively worthless by competition? Where are they? where is there an object more worthy their enterprise and skill—and that promises a richer harvest than the transportation of goods on the Pennsylvania canal? We wish not to persuade—we wish only to point out a neglected point of enterprise, that requires only to be sufficiently known to be grasped at.—Why are the Commission Merchants of Pittsburgh so inert upon this subject? Is it not their interest that every pound of goods be brought from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, along the rout finished by the munificence of the State? Or are they willing that Baltimore, and Wheeling, and New York, and Ohio be the favored routs, and rob us on the right hand and on the left? We say, gentleman, take care how you act in this emergency—you now have the ball at your own foot—in November, the Portage Rail Road will be completed—and then, if things are only managed right, the prosperity of Pittsburgh is secured forever. Goods can and will be transported in 1834 from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, in from six to eight days—and from 1 to 1 1-4 cents per pound.—Need we, then, fear competition? I say No.

VIADUCT.

Interesting to Physicians.—We find the following in the New York Evening Post—

By an accidental discharge of a musket, the side of a young man was so much torn as to perforate the abdomen; and by the skill of an army surgeon, assisted by the efforts of nature, it was nevertheless so healed as to leave the patient in perfect health, with the opening remaining, as if for the express purpose of affording medical knowledge, and teaching men the art of preserving health by the due regulation and just choice of food.

We are happy in having it in our power to inform our readers, that the skilful surgeon alluded to, Doctor William Beaumont, is now preparing for the press an account of this very unique case, with the result of a continued series of experiments upon the healthful subject whose body has been thus laid open and its internal operations exposed as if for the benefit of the human race.

Doctor Beaumont, after being the instrument of restoring this patient to perfect health and strength, has at great expense maintained him for years, solely with a view to such experiments as should prove the existence of the gastric juice, (by some denied) show its power in and out of the stomach, test the digestibility of every kind of food, and the effect of various medical substances, and has thus collected a mass of information, which could, by no other person, and by no other means, have been obtained.

This important work will be printed under the author's inspection, at Plattsburg, in this state, where Doctor Beaumont is now stationed, and we doubt not, that the self interest, if not the gratitude of mankind, will amply repay him for the skill he has shown in his profession, and the zeal he has evinced in the cause of science and humanity.

Portugal.—As the American government was the first, if we mistake not, to acknowledge Don Miguel as Sovereign of Portugal, de facto, why should it not, on the same principle, be the first, or among the first, to acknowledge Donna Maria, now that she is sovereign of Portugal, de facto. This is the only ground on which we based the acknowledgment of Don Miguel; and it is the only ground on which we are called to acknowledge Donna Maria. However prompt we may be in this acknowledgment, England and France will doubtless anticipate us, but we may at least show that, as republicans and philanthropists, we have no preference of absolutism over constitutionalism; or of tyranny over a government of laws. We are not so sanguine as to believe that the reign of Donna Maria will be free from defects, but as little do we doubt that in every point of view, it will be preferable to that of Don Miguel.—Jour. Com.

Texas—Observations historical, geographical, and descriptive, in a series of Letters, by Mrs. Mary Austin Holley. Baltimore: Armstrong and Plaskitt.—In a series of letters, written in a very smooth and agreeable style, this lady, the widow of the late President of Transylvania College, (Ky.) has here presented the result of her own observations and impressions on a visit made in 1831, to Austin's colony. In climate and natural products, this region would seem to be little less than a Paradise; though there, as in all earthly paradises, man must eat his bread by the sweat of his brow—that is to say, as Mrs. Holley fairly states to all who may be disposed to migrate thither, that "a soil that yields the fruit of nearly every latitude almost spontaneously, with a climate of perpetual summer, must, like that of other countries, have a seed time and harvest. Though the land be literally flowing with milk and honey, yet the cows must be milked and the honey must be gathered. Houses must be built and enclosures made, the deer must be hunted and the fish caught. From the primeval curse, that in the sweat of his brow man shall eat bread, though its severity be mollified, there is no exemption even here. The emigrant should bear in mind, that in a new community labor is the most valuable commodity." This is both fair and just; and this seems to us the general character of this pretty little volume.

The history and success of Col. Austin's settlement, which individual enterprise and perseverance alone have founded, without any aid from government, or associations of any kind, and which, in the course of about eight years, has swelled from its first feeble commencement, until now it numbers six thousand persons, are full of interest and encouragement to others, and reflect great honor on the character, abilities, and courage of Col. Austin himself. We are glad to find throughout these pages the expression strongly stated that Texas desires nothing better than to remain a portion of the Mexican nation, one of the free States of that confederacy. We feared that so great an ingress of Americans might have led to the hope and wish of being incorporated with the United States: on the contrary, however, the inhabitants of Texas are in interest and feeling Mexicans; and we certainly trust our present souther boundary will never recede.

University of Pennsylvania, Sept. 3, 1833.

The trustees of the University have great satisfaction in being able, after three years' experience, and after the examination of the classes in the collegiate department which has lately taken place, to renew the assurance of their entire and even increased confidence in the efficiency of the institution under its present professors. The system of instruction adopted at the reorganization of the department of arts, was announced in the month of September, 1829, and at the close of the studies of the following year the trustees took occasion to state the gratifying results of the first year's labors. The expectations then indulged have been fully realized and they feel themselves warranted in saying from a careful inspection during the three years which have since elapsed, and especially at the close of the last session, that this has been ably and faithfully carried into effect. The instruction of the pupils in every branch of their studies has been thorough and acute.

The trustees have pleasure also in believing that the public confidence in the University is becoming more and more established. The number of pupils admitted at the last examination was greater by one third than at the corresponding period of any former year. It is encouraging to perceive from this demonstration, that the institution is growing in the esteem of our fellow citizens, and that the measure of its support increases with the conviction, founded upon actual results exhibited by the classes that have been graduated, of its capacity to afford a comprehensive and solid education.

In bearing this testimony, according to their duty, to the merits of the Institution and to the industry, zeal, and ability, of the Professors, the Trustees avail themselves of the occasion to repeat the expression of their sense of the importance of the trust committed to them, and of their determination to endeavor to execute it in a manner worthy of the enlightened community whom it most immediately concerns. That community, and all who may feel an interest in the advancement of morality and learning, they would respectfully but earnestly invite to make themselves acquainted with the actual state of the University, persuaded that nothing more will be necessary to convince them "it is as broad in its principles and as comprehensive in its course of instruction, as any college within our common country," and extending its usefulness by their countenance and support. Let it have the place it deserves in their thoughts and affections, so as to be invigorated by the warmth of habitual kindness and consideration, and with the blessings of Heaven its success is certain.

Signed by order of the Board.

WM. WHITE, Chairman.

James C. Biddle, Secretary.

Needle Making.—To perforate a bit of exceedingly fine steel wire, so as to produce the eye in a needle, hardly the thickness of a hair, must obviously require a hand possessing at once considerable delicacy and dexterity combined. The person, generally a female, performing the operation, first slightly flattens, with a small hammer, that end of the needle intended to receive the eye; she then places it on a small anvil, which is fixed on her work bench; and, by means of a stroke with her hammer on a delicately pointed steel punch, makes an indention on one side; she then places it on a block of lead, and, by a similar stroke with the same instrument, completes the perforation. The needle is in the next place detained in a pair of pliers, and the head being bent back a little, it is, by means of a suitable kind of file, made to receive that peculiar channel or gutter, which is observable on each side of the eye; this guttering, as it is called, is performed with precision and despatch by some woman; a small file is afterwards applied upon the head of the needle. These processes are generally conducted by outworkers—women and girls at their own homes, and are mostly confined to the most delicate articles. The larger needles are brought more directly under the operation of machinery. For instance, the formation of the gutters and the piercing of the eye are made to depend upon strokes, given by a stamp and a fly press. In the former process, a piece of wire of the length of two needles, and pointed at both ends, is placed exactly in the middle upon a steel die, having the form of the gutter, &c., impressed on its surface: over the die hangs another, its exact counterpart; so that, by means of a blow from the stamp hammer, the two needles between the dies are exactly impressed on both sides with the channels already mentioned. The piece of pointed wire is then similarly placed under a fly press, where, by means of two steel points, the eyes are instantly pierced. They are then broken asunder, and the heads corrected with the file, as before. —Lardner's Cyclopædia.

Colonel Charles Morgan, of Louisiana, has obtained a patent for preserving ships and ship timber from dry rot; and offers that if the government will extend the necessary aid to test his plan, he will guarantee the exemption from dry rot of any and all vessels to which he may apply his preventative.—Nat. Gaz.

Indian Affairs.—"In relation to the unfortunate death of Col. Hardeman Owen," who was killed lately by a party of United States' soldiers, at his residence in the Creek Nation, the Flag of the Union, of Thursday last, says:

"We are authorized to say, that the Governor [of Alabama] has requested the Marshal to abstain from any further interference between the citizens of the new counties and the Indians. He has received letters of complaint from individuals of high respectability, and has addressed a communication to the War Department, requesting that the troops may be withdrawn. The Governor does not recognize any authority in the Marshal, or the troops of the United States, to settle disputes between our White and Indian population, and has come to the determination to prevent, by all proper means, a mode of proceeding so repugnant to the Constitution and Laws of the State.—The utmost confidence is entertained that the President has no disposition to incommode our citizens, and that the troops will be withdrawn at the request of the Governor."—Nat. Gaz., Sept. 7.

The Nullifiers of Pendleton district, South Carolina, seem to be utterly unwilling to bury the tomahawk, but stand ready to renew the political warfare, from which we have so recently emerged. The toast offered by their representative in congress, on the 4th July, was ominous of mischief; and accordingly we find the popular voice in that quarter responding to it, in the following resolution, passed at the militia muster, on the 20th ult., on motion of Col. Bonham:

"Whereas, by late unpleasant experience, we have seen that the virtuous efforts of this state in her trials were weakened by the opposition and unfaithful part taken by some of those who enjoy the favors and offices of South Carolina: Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we instruct our members of the legislature, at the next session, to vote for the passage of an act to exact an oath of paramount allegiance to the state, from all those who shall receive her offices."

If this sentiment becomes general among the nullifiers, who hold in their hands the political power of the state, well may it be said that "the battle is but just begun."

The Slave Insurrection in Cuba.—We have received additional information in regard to this rebellion. It appears that from 500 to 600 slaves had been smuggled in from Africa, and landed at a place about 30 miles west of Havana. Some communication took place between them and the slaves on the neighboring plantations, in which the former were given to understand that a grievous mortality [cholera] was prevailing among the blacks on the island, and that it was occasioned by poison administered by the whites. This drove the new comers to desperation, and thinking they might as well die in one way as another, they rose upon their keepers and murdered them. On this intelligence being spread, a military captain, with two other persons, proceeded to the landing, in order to do away the impression prevailing among the insurgents, and bring them back to subordination. These men were also killed. A troop of cavalry, consisting of about 30 men, was then sent against the insurgents, who, by this time, had been joined by some of the slaves on the neighboring plantations, and a battle ensued, in which a number of the blacks were killed, and also two officers and several privates of the troops. The remainder, finding their force insufficient to suppress the insurrection, retreated. A larger body was then sent, and poured a terrible fire upon the insurgents, which killed 400 or 500. The whole loss of the whites is stated at 30 or 40. At the date of the last accounts, the rebellion was considered at an end. The negroes, we understand, had no weapons but clubs and stones.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

The Irish Gentleman in search of a Religion. We perceive, by the last number of the London Literary Gazette, that Moore's volume recently published under the title prefixed to the present paragraph, has already been answered, by the Rev. Mortimer O'Sullivan, a Protestant Clergyman in Ireland. The title of the reply is "A Guide to an Irish Gentleman in Search of a Religion." From the extracts given, we should infer that the Rev. author has executed his task with spirit and effect. The Gazette says "he goes through all the main arguments and references of Mr. Moore in a very learned and able manner; and, without acerbity or coarseness, it is but fair to allow, that on many points he has exposed mistakes, rectified quotations, and overturned conclusions, with peculiar strength and dexterity.

The Rev. Mr. O'Sullivan was formerly a Roman Catholic priest, and is consequently well qualified for the task he has undertaken. He was converted many years ago to the Protestant faith, and is a pastor of one of the churches in Dublin. Although by his change of Religion he incurred the bitter enmity of the Irish Catholics, he is admitted by all, to be one of the most eloquent preachers in the kingdom.

Extraordinary Earthquake.—The Montreal Gazette, of the 31st ult., contains an account of an earthquake that recently happened at St. Leon, in the District of Three Rivers, which, if true, is one of the most remarkable on record. Its extent is said to have been limited to about fifteen acres.

It is impossible, says the Minerve, giving the details of the occurrence, to describe the scene of desolation which the spot now presents; all is overthrown and fallen to the banks of the river. The house and barn of Isaac Lesage have sunk in, as also the house and barn of Augustus Ferron. Isaac Lesage is now dead, from having been crushed under the ruins of the house. His wife, who had gone out to milk the cows, saw the house sinking in. An old man saved himself with several children by getting out by the roof. The body of Lesage has been found dreadfully mangled. The house has so sunk into the earth, that nothing but the head of the chimney is visible. The barn has entirely disappeared.

The family of Lesage, who have lost all their provisions, and most of their property, are in a great state of privation. It is said that a large cross, erected on the road side, as is customary, through the devotion of the inhabitants, was conveyed to a great distance, without falling, and is even more perpendicular than it was before. The whole of the accident occurred within a short distance of the Church of St. Leon.

Permanency of Human Hair.—M. Picket has lately made a comparison between a recent human hair and those from the head of a mummy from the Island of Teneriffe, with respect to the constancy of those properties which render the hair important as a hygrometric substance. For this purpose, hygrometers, constructed according to Saussure's principles were made, one with a recent hair, and the other with hair from the mummy. The ancient hairs were not so strong as the others, or of sufficient length, but the latter objection was obviated by tying four together. The results of the experiments were, that in both instruments the intervals between extremes of moisture and the dryness of the chamber (about 25 degrees) was passed in three minutes—that the indications, like those of the thermometer, &c. were rapid on leaving the first term, and became slower on approaching the second—that the hygromestic quality of the Guanche hair is sensibly the same as that of the recent hair.—Bib. Univ. XXVII.

The Dog.—The Richmond Whig, in condemning the war of extermination in that city and Philadelphia, of this devoted animal, relates the following anecdote of the faithful among the faithless:—

An old free negro who lived in an adjoining county, owned a dog, which during the whole course of its life, had probably never had the benefit of a hearty meal. It was a perfect anatomy, the very skeleton of a shadow, remarkable for nothing but its ghostly appearance, and its apparent devotion to its owner. It was likewise a cur, a race usually considered the most unpromising of all the canine species. The master died, and the affectionate creature followed him to the grave. Upon returning to the house, he laid himself down upon an old coat, which had belonged to his deceased master, and no effort of force or persuasion could induce him to quit it. Whenever an attempt was made to coax him away, he howled so piteously, that those who heard him, declared it was distressing to hear him. But when force was used, he met it with savage and ungovernable fury. The neighbors, taking compassion on him, gave him food every day, but the faithful creature rejected it with indifference. He clung to the only memorial which he possessed of his master, with a tenacity which nothing could shake, until death at last came to relieve his broken and affectionate heart. Who can hear (adds the Whig) of instances of such noble affection, affection which can possibly have its origin in no mean or interested motive, and not feel his sympathies deeply moved for the whole race.

A Wag.—The New York Gazette states that a wag went away last week to the Washington market to purchase eggs. He found a countryman with a basket containing the quantity he wanted—after agreeing upon the price, he told the countryman to fold his arms, and he would count them out of the basket. He did so, and piled them, amounting to five dozen, up to his chin; then told him to hold on till he ran home for his change. After waiting till his arms ached with the load, without a return of his customer, he was relieved from his awkward predicament by crying murder.

Riches.—What are they? who is rich? Is it he who has fifty thousand dollars or one million dollars? Kings are beggars sometimes on their thrones, merchants whose ships float on every sea; yet a poor mechanic has enough to lend. To be rich is to want nothing—to have no wishes which you cannot gratify; and the term "getting rich" should not mean laying up money, but retrenching superfluous desires. Napoleon with his imperial power, was more a slave than a common soldier, who received a certain stipend a day, however mean. Wealth wants, "hills on hills and Alps on Alps arise." It is incompatible with true independence. Diogenes was richer than Alexander. The one had all he desired in the warmth of the sun; the other although master of a world, wept over the narrowness of his power.

Modern Infidelity.—Mahlon Day has published separately, Robert Hall's celebrated Sermon on Modern Infidelity. This sermon was preached as a voice of warning, when the infidel principles of the French Revolution were introduced into England, under the agency of Paine, and has justly been regarded as one of the proudest efforts of the great and eloquent Baptist theologian.

The Commercial Representative mistaken for a Servant!—"The Vice President has got a spruce looking waiter," said a Jonathan who was on board the Sunday Canal Packet with Messrs. Van Buren and Cambreleng. "Who do you mean?" inquired a passenger. "Why the chap that just hung up Mr. Van Buren's cane," replied Jonathan. "That is no waiter," said the other, "but the Honorable Churchell C. Cambreleng, the "Commercial Representative" of the great state of New York. "All firelock!" exclaimed Jonathan—"now I am beat!—who would have thought to see a member of Congress holding wash basins, and hanging up canes?—I would sooner split curl maple rails for a York shilling a hundred than covet such honor as that."—Albany Ev. Journal.

A Yankee "trick."—It will be recollected, that Mr. Perkins, of Boston, recently offered his magnificent mansion, as an asylum for the blind—provided $50,000 were promptly subscribed for the support of the institution. Well—the "trick" succeeded, and the money was raised in less time than it would require, in some places which might be named, to agree on the most suitable words to be written on the subscription paper. And to "cap" the whole, the directors of the asylum for the sightless have caused a plain marble table to be placed on their building with this inscription:—

INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND.

MDCCCXXXIII.

A Good Precedent.—The State of Connecticut has a law requiring that all capital punishments shall be inflicted "within the jail, or an enclosed yard, so as to prevent public observation." In compliance with this requirement, the Sheriff of Hartford county, we learn by the Daily Review, will enclose a place adjoining the jail for the execution of Teller and Cæsar, on Friday next. The yard will be enclosed with a plank fence 18 feet high, and as the gallows will be but 15 feet in height, it will be impossible for persons to witness the execution from without. We make this explanation, says the Review, at the request of the Sheriff, and in hope that it will prevent our citizens and friends from the country from congregating at the prison to witness an execution that will be entirely out of their sight. These men were respited, it will be remembered, by an act of the legislature. The act was deemed by some anomalous, and, in consequence, writs of error were presented to Judge Peters, but he has refused to sign them.

The steam boat Watchman, Lieut. Gedney, of the U. S. Navy, commander, sailed yesterday at one o'clock for Mobile, intending to stop at Charleston to take in fuel. This boat was built at Washington, D. C., and is to transport the U. S. Mail on Lake Pontchartrain, between New Orleans and Mobile. The Watchman is a staunch boat, of 246 tons, with elegant accommodations for passengers, and a low pressure engine, constructed by Messrs. Watchman & Bratt, of this city. It is expected that the efforts which the contractors on that rout are now making, will enable them to convey the New Orleans Mail with regularity.—On the arrival of the Watchman at Mobile, Capt. Edmondson will assume command.—Baltimore American, Sept. 6.

From Havana.—Capt. Barringer, at New York, from Havana, reports that on the day he left there, an insurrection had broken out among the negroes in the western part of the Havana, to the number of 4 or 500; that the Spanish cavalry had been sent against them, and there was no doubt it would be speedily quelled. This must have been the disturbance that gave rise to the report we published on Wednesday, via Matanzas, in which it was stated that 4 or 500 slaves had been put to death.

The Cholera was still raging at Havana, but the inhabitants appeared to be in no dread of it.—Baltimore American.

Alabama.—The following are the members of Congress elect from Alabama:—C. C. Clay, John M'Kinley, S. W. Mardis, Dixon H. Lewis, John Murphy.

The Mobile Register, in giving the result of the election as above, says:—This list presents an aggregate of talents, experience and information, that is highly creditable to the State, and places it on a footing of respectability, that will secure its just weight in the national councils. Four, of the five members, are stanch Union men.

Commerce and Immigration.—The following is a list of the vessels and passengers which have arrived in this port during the eight months which have expired of the present year. It is furnished by Capt. Schoefild, U. S. Boarding Officer, and may therefore be relied on for correctness.

MONTHS.	VESSELS.	PASSENGERS.
January,	93	576
February,	98	477
March,	127	738
April,	208	3415
May,	202	3869
June,	202	8850
July,	193	5406
August,	222	8728
	1345	32,049

These are all from foreign ports. The increase which our commerce has experienced, may be deduced from the fact that the number of vessels from foreign ports which arrived here during the whole of the year 1829, was but 1304. What shall we say to the thirty thousand passengers in eight months.—N. Y. Courier.

Mr. J. S. Curtis, at his manufactory in Hampton, Conn., turns out ten thousand pairs of silver spectacles per annum, and now contemplates enlarging his establishment.

An interesting discovery has lately been made at Rome, in the vineyard of Dr. Lupi, between the gates of St. Sebastian and St. Paul. The celebrated mosaic made by Sosius Pergamus, and mentioned by Pliny, lib. 33, sect. 25, has been found. The mosaic represents the remains of a dinner left on a floor, bones of chickens, fish, lettuce leaves, a mouse gnawing these fragments, &c. Pliny states that two doves on a vase were represented on the mosaic, but this part of the work has been damaged by the construction of a wall near the place where it was deposited.—Nat. Gaz.

Holt's Hotel, New York.—To give an idea of the business done at this establishment, it is mentioned that 1795 person were, in the whole, accommodated with board and lodging there, during the month of August.

Extracts from the Baltimore Prices Current, and Review of the Market, for the week ending Friday evening, September 6.

Cotton—We note a sale of 350 bales New Orleans, yesterday, at 17 cts., and a lot of 50 bales prime do. at 17 1-2 cts. A lot of 75 bales Alabama and Florida was sold at 16 cts. We quote Uplands at 16 a 18 cents—a sale of a small lot has been made at 17 cts.

Flour—Howard street Flour—The market is without any perceptible change since our last report, and transactions are limited. Sales of moderate parcels of superfine have been made from stores throughout the week, according to the quantity taken, and brand, at $6 12 1-2 a $6 25. The wagon price is very generally $6, although, in an occasional instance, a load is received at a fraction less. A considerable portion of the receipts continues to fall short of the superfine standard, and is branded "fine." For this latter description there is but a very limited demand, with proportionate sales at $5 50.

Sugars—We hear of no sales of moment by private contract. Holders are very firm, and the trade come up to the advanced prices with great reluctance at auction to day the cargo of the Rebecca Frances from Porto Rico was offered, and 10 hhds. sold at $10 05 a $10 25. A small lot of Cuba White box Sugar was also sold at $10.

Wagon Freights.—We quote to Wheeling at $2 25, and to Pittsburgh at $1 87 1-2 a $2 per 100 lbs.

PERSUASIONS AGAINST CARE.

Shake off these cares, my friend,
And let us make an end
Of these saddening fears!—
If sorrow or cold care
Could darken a grey hair,
Rub out a graven wrinkle,
Or give our yellowing years
The tints they used to wear,
Why then 'twere well to sprinkle
Our smiles with tears.

But since our lots are cast,
Come, let us love the hand
That, weighing all our past,
Our future lives has planned!—
Thy lot might still be worse,
And mine be more distressing:—
Some joy, which now we nurse,
Might yet become a curse,
Which Heaven has made a blessing.
Trusting,—I can resign
The hopes which still are mine
Into His hands who gave
All that I had and have:—
With what is Thine do so—
Then may we smoothly go
Into the careless grave!

PHŒNIX BREWERY, AT KENSINGTON,
PITTSBURGH.

BY virtue of a writ of Levari Facias, issued out of the court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, and to me directed, will be exposed to sale on Saturday, the 12th of October next, at 10 o'clock, at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, the following described property, to wit:

The following contiguous lots, or pieces of ground, situate in Pitt township, Allegheny county, being part of out lot No. 8, in the manor of Pittsburgh: one of said Lots beginning on the south side of the great road, or extension of second Street, and thence running Beale's and Wade's lots, southwardly, down to the corner of Williams' and Redmond's lots, so as to include the spring house, thence by said Williams' and Redmond's lot westwardly, a parallel line with said road sixty feet, thence northwardly a parallel line with the first line to the road aforesaid, and thence by the same eastwardly, sixty feet, to the place of beginning; with the following piece attached to it, and being part of the same, viz: Being twelve feet wide, and extending from the said lot westwardly to a thirty feet street, which runs between Thomas Greenough's and Edward Encell's houses, adjoining Williams' and Redmond's line: the whole being subject to a yearly ground rent of seventy two dollars.

ALSO—One other of the said lots or pieces of ground, beginning at the south east corner of Thos. Greenough's spring house, and running westwardly by the south wall of the said spring house, and containing, in a straight line, one hundred and forty two feet or thereabouts, to a locust post, thence southwardly, in a direct line with the end of Thos. Greenough's dwelling house, fourteen feet, thence westwardly a parallel line with the said dwelling house about twenty seven feet to a street which runs between Greenough's and Encell's heirs, from the great road to the Monongahela river, thence along the east side of said street to the said river, thence up the said river to a post, where a line drawn in a range with the east wall of said spring house would strike said river, and thence by the said line northwardly to the place of beginning: subject to a yearly ground rent of forty dollars. On which are erected a Brewery, Malt House, and the necessary offices, shops, and dwelling houses; the same being generally known by the name of 'Phœnix Brewery, in Kensington,' Pittsburgh.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Samuel Dunn and Wm. O'Neil, at the suit of Henry Holdship, and to be sold by me,
WILLIAM LECKY,
Sheriff of Allegheny Co. Pa.

The above Brewery was in successful operation during the last year, and every thing attached to it, and necessary, is now in good repair.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in all cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

To Baltimore and Philadelphia
TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]
REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
